We of Madison Central High School would like to pay tribute to our form of government. In the division pages of our yearbook we try to picture some of the symbols of which we are proud. Our democracy was formed with the giving of life and property. It has been maintained through the efforts of self-sacrificing representatives and freedom-loving citizens. We, as students, dedicate our future to the prolonging of this democracy.

With pride and gratitude we dedicate our 1958 Interlakes to

As young people growing up in this day and age, we need someone we can admire. This person should be someone who takes an active part in his country's affairs and yet has an interest in his fellowmen.

We students of Central High have an outstanding example shown us by an alumnus of former years. This man has taken an active part in the affairs of our city, state, and nation. Therefore, it is with a great deal of pride that we dedicate this, our 1958 INTERLAKES, to Karl E. Mundt, U. S. Senator.

Freedom to Cooperate

The student council is composed of members from each class. They include homeroom and class presidents. It is presided over by the student body president. They meet and discuss their ideas concerning the school.

Their activities of the year include planning homecoming and the follies, selecting assembly programs for the coming year, passing new school laws, and sponsoring the polio auction.

Glen Rames, president of Student Council, and Mr. Barnard, the advisor, look at the Statue of Liberty which has been standing in our halls for many years. As student body president, Glen presided over assemblies, represented the school at various functions, and acted as master of ceremonies at the Follies.

Senior Snaps

1. This is the last time the seniors had to rack their brains. The seniors took achievement tests in science, math, English, and social studies.
2. Not every graduating class can boast that they have two sets of twins. Here the twins enjoy a coke at a local cafe. Left to right, M. Felker, M. Felker, S. Shaheen and R. Shaheen.
3. Mary Bowman and Richard Mulleney pose with Charles Gaeckle, who presented them with a year's tuition at General Beadle College. They were chosen from students competing in the Elks' contest from Lake County.

Leaders Together

Looking at their new class rings with pride and admiration are the Junior class officers: President Wayne Muth, Vice-President Jeanette Jacobson, Secretary Treasurer Janice Fox, and Home Room Presidents Freda Ericsson and Doug Marager.

Earnestly trying to stay off the falling list are the sophomore class officers: President Dean Rook, Vice-President Linda Rich, Secretary Treasurer Kenneth Ring, and Home Room Presidents Mike Anderson and Merle Pierson.

The freshman class officers—President Bob Collignon, Vice-President Linda Cross, Secretary Treasurer Dennis Halseth, and Home Room President Ann Hess—look on as the other Home Room President George Lee points to the trophy case while they all dream of the trophies they will put there during the next four years.

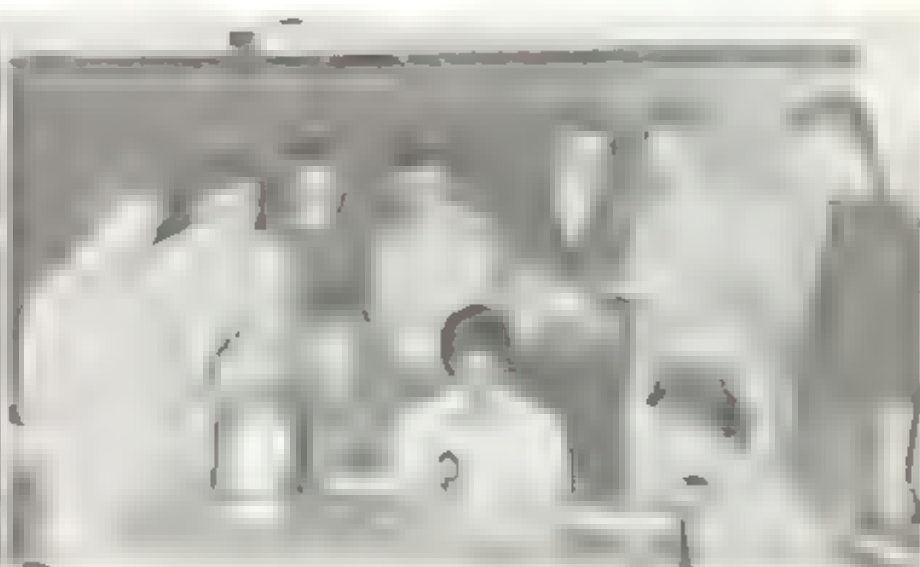

Locating an important point discussed in their world history lesson are A. Strand and S. Johnson.

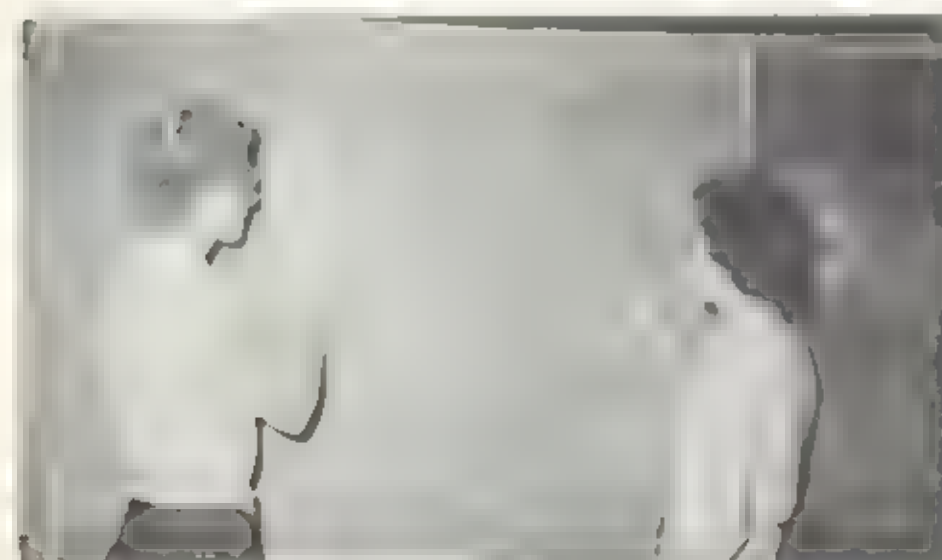

L. Thompson and M. Stoltz are working on an experiment for chemistry class. Careful, girls!

Following the words of the "Julius Caesar" record in their English II textbooks are A. Bickett and J. Luebke.

The advanced speech class is ready to begin broadcasting a radio program. This is one of their class activities. Standing left to right: P. Callan, Mr. O'Hara, D. Brown, R. Parry, L. Ross, C. Rounds and A. Amonson.

The various characters written on the blackboard are not scribbles at all but shorthand symbols. Practicing their penmanship are R. Mullen and T. Piehl.

Striving for perfect stitches are L. Cross, M. Arneson, G. Chapman, K. Schaub, E. Archuk, J. Reed, J. Johnson, and J. Weber.

Ruth Coats is demonstrating the Pythagorean Theorem to her geometry class.

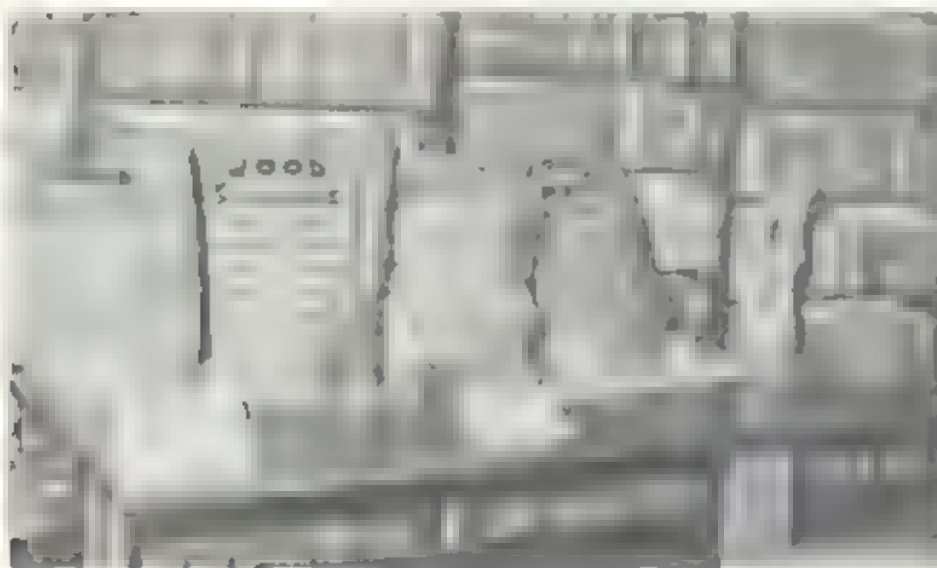

Kae and Rae Olseth are browsing leisurely through the library looking for reference books.

J. Hallenbeck and J. Gutzman are running off stencils. This work is an example of one of the practical skills they learn in Typing II.

Listening to instructions given by Mr. Hilton for a good game of table tennis, one of the activities in boys physical education class, are W. Mohr, J. Watson, and S. Peder and R. Butts.

These are some of the projects shown by the shop class at the final PTA meeting.

Hard at work trying to finish their bookkeeping practice sets are N. Johnson, A. Bogue, and G. Webb assisted by Mr. Southmayd.

1. The students are full of so much energy. They have the janitors a helping hand during National Clean Up Week.

2. "Make a wish and blow." Band instructor Bill Ireland celebrated his birthday with a surprise cake and gift of quarters from the band members.

3. "Would you sign my annual," is a familiar phrase at the annual signing party which is held in August. The distribution of annuals bring many pleasant memories of the past year's events to the foreground.

4. The students are lined up to the track for the annual track meet. The activity is a great way to buy new track suits.

5. One of the many chores the junior class has as a part of their concession stand responsibility is to keep the popcorn machine spic and span.

6. The music of their favorite songs, the students are enjoying themselves at the sock hop held after one of the home basketball games.

1. Superior winners in the regional music contest: R. Hallenbeck, trombone; S. Lotspeich, flute; M. Nelson, saxophone, and J. Greene, saxophone.

2. Brass ensemble: V. Jensen, G. Seitz, L. Kappel, A. Bogue, B. Rush, and P. Callan. They won a superior rating in the regional music contest.

3. Coronet Trio: Winning a superior rating on their numbers were J. Kirkeby, D. Fields, and L. Cross.

4. Saxophone Quintet: Also awarded a superior rating were K. Grimstvedt, M. Nelson, K. Johnson, M. Stoltz, and J. Greene.

5. Clarinet Quintet: S. Lotspeich, M. Kaisersatt, R. Hauge, L. Rich, and J. Kirkeby earned superior rating in their division.

6. Flute Trio: L. Knutson, M. Strand, and S. Lotspeich added another superior rating to the many given to Madison.

7. Clarinet Quartet: Winning one more superior rating for Madison were M. Fox, L. Thompson, K. Tosch and J. Fox.

Director

Mr. Ireland

Madison Central has a band of which it is proud. "Bill" Ireland spends many hours teaching the students the proper techniques of playing an instrument and marching in difficult maneuvers.

The band is an inspiration to our team. The band helps to build school spirit at the pep meetings. One can keep warm by clapping in time to the music at football games. It provides background music during the basketball season between games.

On March 25, the band presented their annual Spring Concert. Ray DeVilbiss, University of South Dakota band director, was the guest cornet soloist and director for the event.

Early in April their many hours of practice were rewarded by winning a superior rating at the regional music contest held in Madison.

Each summer the band makes trips near and far. This summer they plan to travel to the Minneapolis Aquatennial and the State American Legion Convention in Huron. Also, during the summer weekly concerts are held in Library Park for the enjoyment of the people of Madison.

Girls' Glee Club

Boys' Glee Club

"Up on the risers." Although her favorite expression is "breathe from the diaphragm," Miss Schroeder also has this to say while practicing for the contest and the Christmas Program. She directs the girls' glee club, the mixed chorus, and various ensembles. Mr. Ireland directs the boys' glee club.

These groups sang in the annual contest held April 10 and 11. Miss Schroeder's groups also sang in the Christmas Program held December 19.

To sum it up, music is one of the main activities in MHS. Many students have a talent for singing and these groups give them the chance to use it. This year many students received great satisfaction from taking part in music and they will always have pleasurable memories.

The local music contest winners entered the regional contest and were awarded these ratings: Left to right, R. Coats, superior; J. Greene, superior; A. Bogue, superior; K. Grinstvedt, excellent; C. Jung, excellent.

A. Bogue and S. Lotspach entries in the piano division, won excellent and superior respectively.

The girls' quartette, composed of R. Coats, M. Nelson, J. Greene, and A. Bogue performed at various programs and won a superior rating in the music contest.

"We are the future homemakers of America. Our vision is eightfold and worldwide." The FHA is composed of a group of young women working for a better tomorrow. This year they had a Round Robin with Howard FHA. Other activities included making rag dolls for Sioux Falls Crippled Children's Home, holding bake sales, and attending the state convention.

1. The FHA officers curiously thumb through their 1958 scrap book. Left to right: M. Orton, J. Pederson, J. McDonald, L. Roberts and S. Moothart.

2. Miss Mangels proudly presents the Betty Crocker Homemaking award to Judy Davin, who had the highest score in a test given to all senior girls.

3. Carol Inhofer and Judy Arke, acting as typical hillbillies, presented a skit to the visiting Howard FHA.

The Maroon is a publication put out nine times during the year. The staff write, edit, and prepare the make-up for the paper during their five meetings a month. Much credit should be given to the Maroon advisor, Mr. Dockendorf.

On the Maroon there are several different jobs and duties. First there are the feature writers, who must find material for their stories and present them in an enjoyable reading fashion.

1. Richard Mullaney and Shirley Hamre, present co-editors, give advice to their successors, assistant editor Sally Johnson and editor Margie Stahl.

2. Next year's Maroon Staff seriously discuss the problems with which they will be confronted in the future.

3. Delores Chapman, circulation manager, is busy wrapping copies of the Maroon which are to be mailed.

4. The Maroon typists, Carol Schirmacher and Frances Baumeister, playfully lug a typewriter into a Maroon Staff meeting.

The news reporters have an important part as they gather the news and the facts for the news releases.

Last, but not least, we have the sports editor whose job is to cover all sports activities throughout the year.

Also important in producing a good paper are those people in the background such as: circulation manager, typist, cartoonist, and business manager.

1. John Blair, feature writer, is interviewing Mr. O'Hara about the All-School Play, while Priscilla Ista and Judy Kuckenbecker are busily checking some stories.

2. Proofreading, always a tedious job, is done by Jackie Brown, JoAnn Rush and Dennis Rook.

3. Rose Shaheen must keep a supply of bulbs in order to be ready to picture events when they occur. Of course, her job is staff photographer.

4. Ardiss Horner, who does artwork for the Maroon, is at work trying to think of a new cartoon for the next Maroon issue.

Editors, J. Greene and M. Nelson, and adviser Miss Noack proofread one of the finished pages.

Photographer M. Nelson and her assistant, K. Tosch, examine a negative to choose the best pose for one of the annual pages.

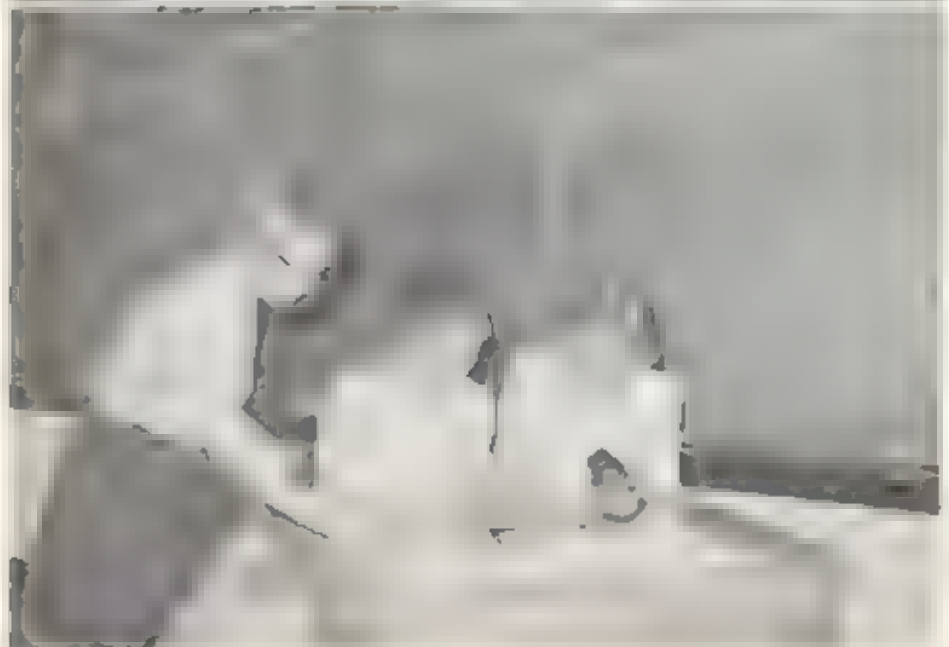

"First place!!" These were the words of the annual staff when they learned that the 1956-57 Interlakes had been awarded the first place in the Division II of the annual competition sponsored by the South Dakota High School Press Association each year.

Although receiving a first place rating was very thrilling, our greatest satisfaction came when we saw a successful portrayal of the year's events reproduced in our yearbook. The memories of long hours of work were replaced by a feeling of pride that comes from doing something others appreciate.

Again this year we of the annual staff are happy to present a resume of the highlights of 1957-58. We hope it will help each person to relive some of the happy moments he enjoyed during the past year.

Typists, J. Devin and J. McDonald, confer on the proper way to set up the final draft of a write-up for the annual, while the sophomore assistants, V. Jensen and K. Grimstedt, busily type up the rough copy.

S. Gocken, L. Rich, and M. Robson, working on the activity pages, put the finishing touches on their work.

Sports editors, M. Stoltz and J. Jacobson, gather information for their pages by interviewing some of the athletes. The boys are M. Klopf and M. Anderson.

J. Fox and A. Tidblom had to do a little "snooping around" to find information about the faculty.

A. Gutzman, M. Johnson, and C. Noteboom are wrapping annuals to send to other schools with whom we exchange annuals. These finished yearbooks are the result of much hard work.

Working on the special events section this year were M. Bowman, T. Piehl, and L. Thompson. Two of the highlights they worked on were Follies and Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom.

Declam

Wit and Wisdom

Standing: R. Coats, J. Greene, R. Shaheen, W. Lucas, M. McKinney and M. Johnson.

Standing: P. Callan, S. Shaheen, K. Tosch, K. Christensen, S. Lotspeich, E. Archuk, J. Delzer, J. Beach, J. Weber and D. Drew.

"Resolved: That the United States Foreign Aid be substantially increased." This was the theme for Mr. O'Hara's debate teams this year. They received many honors including the trophy shown in the picture above.

Smoothtalkers

NFL

Individuals who have received twenty points in declam, debate, or public speaking are eligible to belong to the National Forensic League. All members receive a certificate of honorary membership to NFL from Karl Mundt, National President of the League. These members may then enter the contests of the NFL and progress as long as they receive a superior rating.

National Honor Society

This is the first year that Madison Central has had an Honor Society. Members are chosen by the school faculty from members of the junior and senior classes. They are selected for scholarship (maintaining at least a B average), service, leadership, and character.

Dramatics

Comedy-Tragedy

Left to right. Fifth row: J. Holle, B. Orseth, D. Blair, W. Muth, D. Manager, H. Grenapp, L. Dahl. Fourth row: R. Hauge, C. Grimsrud, A. Hess, M. Johnson, J. Noteboom, D. Williams, C. Liddiard, G. Chason, B. Poppen. Third row: J. Gist, P. Oldre, L. Cross, M. Stoltz, M. Arneson, C. Jung, S. Biegger. Second row: C. Bidwell, J. Delzer, J. Morgan, R. Coats, L. Rich, S. Shaheen, G. Noteboom, M. McKinney. First row: J. Fox, L. Thompson, J. Jacobson, L. Anderson, F. Ericsson, J. Pederson, S. Johnson.

The dramatics club is composed of two groups, the freshmen-sophomore division, and the junior-senior division. They learn how to set stages properly, how to apply make-up correctly and how to develop stage presence. Each year the group produces a series of one-act plays.

The purpose of the Science Club is to further a person's knowledge of science. The members work on many projects. Some of them are: studying and overhauling an internal combustion engine, experimenting with static electricity, distilling water, studying weather, bending and shaping glass tubing, mounting rocks and minerals on boards so that fluorescence under 'Black Light' may be observed.

Thumb Smashers

Handicraft

Left to right. Third row: B. O'Loughlin, L. Lee, M. Huetti, B. Gross, E. Steffen, L. Kappel, J. Bakke, M. Klopff. Second row: D. Luecke, C. Jaton, M. O'Loughlin, G. Knudson, F. Van Den Hamel, D. McDonald, H. Van Den Hamel, G. Vickmark. First row: M. Grenapp, R. Giepel, J. Hall, E. Schroeder, M. O'Loughlin, L. Yeger, L. Dahl, Mr. Hock, advisor.

The Handicraft Club, for which  $\frac{1}{4}$  cred + is earned, meets twice a week in Central High School. Each boy is encouraged to develop his hobby according to his own interests. Some of the articles which we can see in many of our homes in Madison and which are the result of students' hand work are: driftwood lamps of blond and black hues, wooden plates, fruit bowls, picture frames, and copper ash trays.

Chess Club

Chess was derived from medieval times when kings often settled disputes by playing the game. It stimulates the power of concentration, thus making keener minds. Interest in this club has grown considerably among the students at MHS.

Journalism

The Pen Is Mighty

Studying the fundamentals of feature and news writing, the Journalism Club further their training as future Maroon Staff members. The club also learns to copy read, to write, and edit. Left to right: L. Hagg, V. Tuttle, M. McKinney, M. Rames, B. Mickelson, J. Johnson. Standing, Mr. Dockendorf, instructor.

The Visual Aid Members correctly learn how to use stage lights, tape recorders, and movie projectors. They practice their skill by showing movies in classes for the teachers.

Keep Them Busy

Library Club

The Library Club assists Mrs. Gulstine with her duties as librarian. Working in the reference room, pasting important articles in scrapbooks, and keeping the library neat are a few of their main duties.

The job of the A Cheerleaders is to keep up school spirit and fill the students with pep so that they will cheer at the pep meetings and games. They appreciate loud voices and loyal hearts to help them back the team at a ball game. The A Cheerleaders have charge of pep meetings and sponsor socials after the games.

The B Cheerleaders help the A Cheerleaders with the pep meetings. They also lead the student body in supporting the B team at the games.

Football is not only the winning and losing of games, but also the building of strong bodies and minds, and gives the boys ability to work as a unit.

We, at Madison High, feel we can call our 1957-58 Football season a victorious one. Our team has done very well, and has been deserving of the honors they have received. Of the eight games played, we won five. Therefore, team, we salute you.

"....and here is our starting line-up for tonight, Glen Rames, Ken Oldre, Albert Amonson, and Larry Lee." Not only these four starting seniors, but our entire team made the 1957-58 basketball season at M. H. S. a successful one. To determine a season's success, games won and lost are of little importance. It means more when a group of boys can learn how to be good sports and how to work together. During our 1957-58 season these two things were accomplished; therefore, our basketball season was a most successful one.

The M Club is composed of all the boys who have earned a letter in sports during their years at Madison Central.

To be a member of this club is considered an honor, but to obtain this honor many hours of hard work are needed. This club's purpose is to raise funds for athletic equipment, and help keep our sports department completely modern.

We find our coaches, Mr. Mathison, Mr. Hilton, and Mr. Fingerhut, talking over their problems.

Assembly Snaps

Mr. William Hooker, a pianist and conductor, gave an excellent piano recital for the student body. He played a series of songs by famous composers and ended his program with "Autumn Leaves."

During one of the regular pep meetings, the class presidents were called on to give the student body an exhibit of their ability of doing the Hawaiian Hula. The winner was C. Rounds, the senior class president.

Mr. Turner from the National Education Association gave an interesting and humorous talk on education.

The whole student body was carried back to the good old days in the South when Mr. Jose Silva played a series of songs and Negro spirituals. He concluded the program by playing the school song.

Mayo Greene and her friends presented the Big Top in Miniature. Her assistant is showing Joey, the little spider monkey, to Karen Tosch. The performance was presented to all the city schools.

Special Events

12:00 - 1:00 p.m.

1. Glen Rames tips his crown, and Delores Chapman flashes a lovely smile after having been crowned as the Central High Homecoming Royalty for 1958.

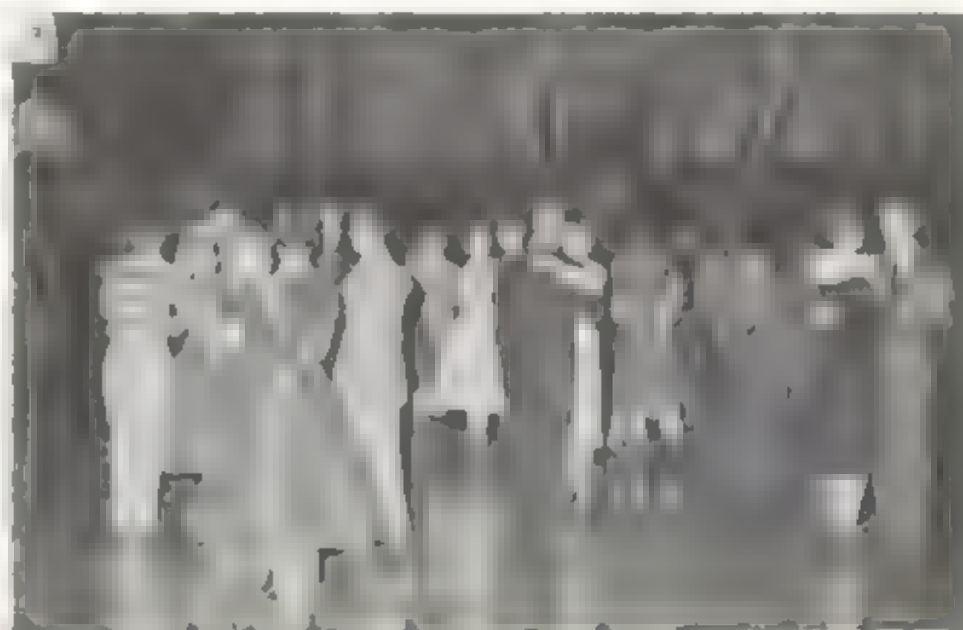

2. Candidates for the 1958 Homecoming royalty are from left to right Patti Callan, Jane Hallenbeck, Mary Felker, Judy Kuchenbecker, Queen Delores Chapman, King Glen Rames, Albert Amonson, Craig Rounds, Norman Johnson, and Bob Doyle.

MOVIES was the theme for the Homecoming festivities this year. Delores Chapman and Glen Rames were crowned Homecoming king and queen for 1958 amid the Siamese atmosphere from the movie, "The King and I." Following the coronation program the students paraded to the bonfire, where they cheered and rallied for the coming game.

The following day was packed with excitement. The parade was marvelous; the free movie packed with suspense; and to top the day off, Madison scored a victory over the Flandreau Fliers. What could be a more perfect ending to a perfect day than to dance with your date at the annual Homecoming Dance!!

3. After a triumphant victory over the Flandreau Fliers, the MHS students attended the annual Homecoming dance.

4. Stars shone in the eyes of the students as they danced to the dreamy strains of "My Blue Heaven."

1. John Blair, "The man on the street," in the coronation program, interviewed various people. Each was positive that Madison would trump the Fliers.

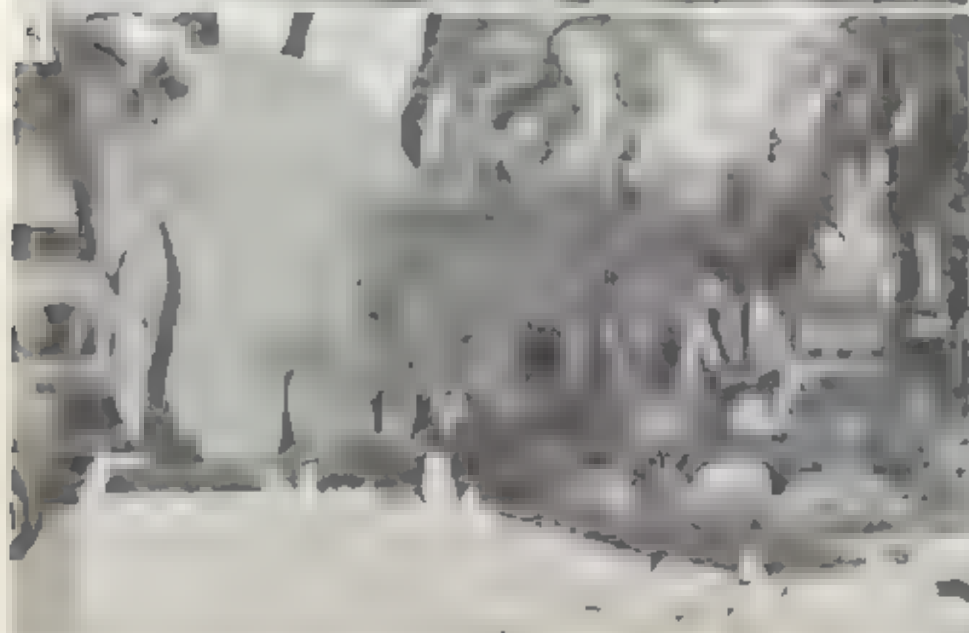

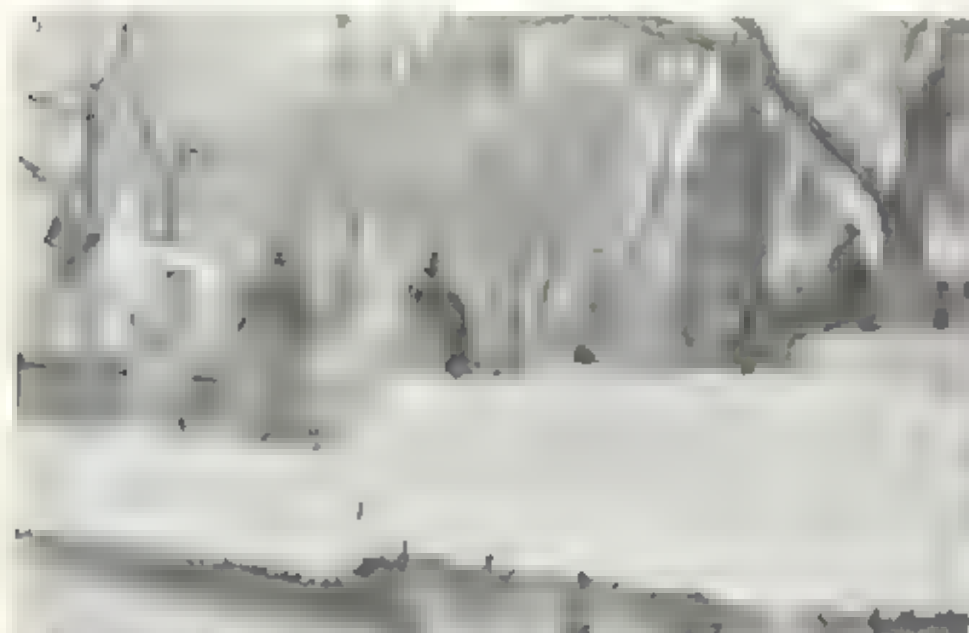

2. From a mere trailer the FHA girls created this lovely carriage for their Cinderella.

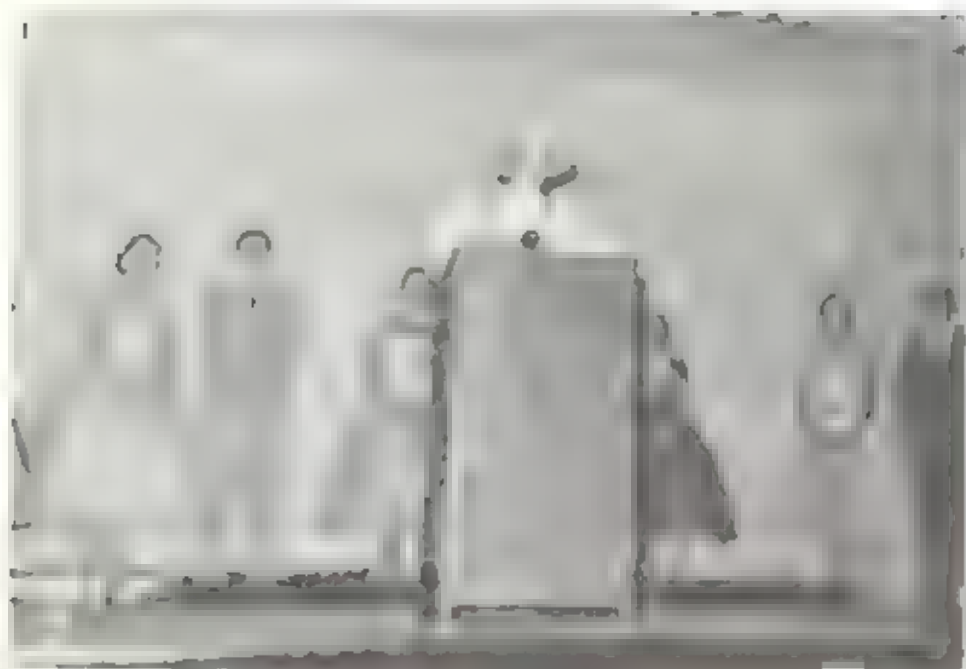

3. The most original float, "The Guns of Fort Petticoast," was constructed by the freshman homeroom A-H.

4. The sophmores were full of energy trying to finish their float before the day of the parade.

5. The sun, the palm trees, and a bamboo hut were part of the decorations of "Island in the Sun."

6. The king and queen and their attendants waited in the chilly air for the parade to begin.

1. B. Doyle, a "country hick," entertains "Archie Hurray's Dance Party" by telling of his first experience at a football game. The dancers participating in the winning skit are: R. Mullen, N. Deniger, C. Noteboom, D. Chapman, K. Oldre.

2. Royalty takes a whirl! The king and queen set the mood by dancing the first dance. M. McKinney, L. Dahl, B. Dovie, M. Felker, Queen J. Rush, King K. Ring, K. Schaub, D. Halseth

MHS'S fifth annual Follies was presented with more enthusiasm than ever before. The "Classcapades" is a student production staged to finance the Interlakes, the yearbook. The students write, produce, and direct the skits themselves. A lot of brainstorming and energy goes into the production of a skit. Each class works diligently to make the winning skit. The winner receives a trophy thus enabling their class candidates to gain points for their King and Queen candidates.

3. Stars of the future were portrayed in the sophomore skit, "High Society of '77." P. Estes, V. Jensen, J. Rush.

4. "Who's afraid of the big bad wolf?" sing the freshmen in their skit, "The Three Little Ladies." Members of the cast are: A. Hess, P. Oldre, O. Dickerson, K. Schaub, D. Oines, R. Hauge, G. Lee, K. Kessler, J. Kirkeby, D. Fields.

Smiles! J. Rush and K. Ring display their joy over winning King and Queen of the Follies of 1957

Jeanette Jacobson posed as the celebrated Jayne Mansfield in a humorous skit, "Surprise Birthday Party for Jayne Mansfield," presented by the junior class. M. McKinney, T. Taylor, B. Lucas, M. Stolz, L. Dahl, F. Hof, L. Thompson, J. Jacobson, L. Anderson.

Queen J. Rush and King K. Ring, representing the sophomore class, reign over the Follies of 1957. Each class works to earn points throughout the Follies. The class with the highest total gets the honor of having their candidates reign as King and Queen.

The Follies dance is traditionally started by the royalty candidates.

Individual acts are presented between the skits to allow time for changing the scenery for the class skits.

Boxing matches are presented in the school gymnasium. Each boxer represents a class. Excitement mounts as each contender strives to win a victory for his class.

3. The masters of the keyboard, J. Rush and P. Istas, delighted the audience with their piano duet, "Glow Worm"

4. A left was nicely planted on the jaw of Dennis McCracken by Albert Amonson. These boys were two of the many participants in the boxing matches of the Follies.

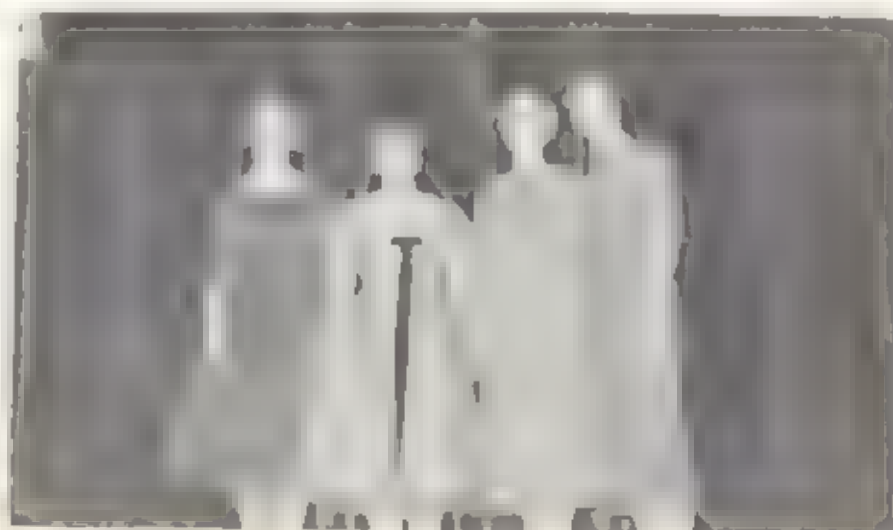

"Christmas Spirit." HIS students showed this enthusiasm when Miss Schroeder and her music groups presented a night of beautiful Christmas singing. Religious songs reminded the audience of the real meaning of Christmas. Familiar songs put everyone in a holiday mood, a mood that only music can give.

"Sing and Rejoice" was the message the Mixed Chorus had to brighten the Christmas season.

2. "No Candle Was There and No Fire" but the Girls Glee Club glowed with spirit as they sang "Silver Bells."
3. Although no snow was lying outside, Jane, Patty and Anita seemed to stroll in a "Winter Wonderland."
4. The sextet wished for a white Christmas as they wanted to "Let It Snow."
5. The quartet--Anita, Jennie, Marian and Ruth--wondered about the Christmas season when they sang "I Wonder As I Wander."

1. After a whirl on the dance floor King Merle and Queen JoAnn stopped at the punch table for pink punch and novelty cookies served by Judy Wulff and Ann Strand.
2. The well worn path to the kissing well proved what a success it was throughout the evening.
3. Holiday in Pink attracted alumni and MHS students to the hop, which is sponsored by the Horizon Club. They whirled through pink clouds as the Collegiates furnished background music to set the mood.
4. It was a glowing moment when Peggy Oldre and John Holle gave their reign to JoAnn Rush and Merle Pierson, the new royalty.

The regular "youth nights" sponsored by the Elks Lodge of Madison provide pleasant recreation for the students. Dancing and various games give the students a chance to get together and enjoy themselves.

1. Dancing. With the lights turned low these students are having a wonderful time dancing.
2. Cards. What a life this is playing cards and drinking pop.
3. Pool. Those boys are really "wrapped up" in this interesting game of pool.

Polio Auction

Value Received

Once again, MHS students remember those who are stricken with polio. The student council planned the auction and members of the council acted as auctioneers and cashers. Everything from baked goods to dates with pretty co-eds and handsome lads was auctioned. The students participated enthusiastically for the worthy cause. This year the receipts totaled $73.96.

1. "Tastes good, like a good cake should"
2. "How much am I bid for this bunny rabbit?"
3. F. Ericsson willingly accepts a donation from J. Schaub as A. Hess records the transaction

1. Jane: Professor--what in the world happened to you?
Kropotkin (his hair all mussed up and a black eye): I'm not sure, but I think I got hit by a large truck.
2. Irma: Just hold the frying pan while I measure the salt. (Sticks the ruler into the frying pan and takes careful measurement). It's awfully hard to get it exactly right. The recipe calls for one inch of salt.
3. Mrs. O'Reilly: Glory be, I've got meself a man!
Kropotkin: This means you accept my proposition?
Mrs. O'Reilly: Do I? Professor--darlin': (grabs him and kisses him on the forehead).
4. Kropotkin (scratches at his beard, then picks a "flea" out of it and slaps the back of his hand). Maqda (screams): What have you done? (runs over to Kropotkin to examine the back of his hand) Yes, it's Horatio! You-You murderer!
5. Jane (sews in silence, then Irma squirms nervously): Stand still, honey, or I'll never get this hem straight.
Irma: I can't help it, Jane--I'm so nervous. After today, I'll never get married again.
6. Teddy: Shine on, shine on, harvest moon, up in the sky, I ain't had no lovin' since--
7. Irma (running with arms out): Gee, I'm glad to see you, Mom!

"My Friend Irma" which was presented at Central High on February 24 and 25, proved to be very successful and entertaining for everyone. The play was directed by Mr. O'Hara and Sophie Shaheen, student director.

The setting of the entire play took place in the living room of Irma and Jane's small furnished apartment in Manhattan. The plot got under way when Al, Irma's boy friend, was approached by Don Turner, the famous cartoonist, who wanted to start a new cartoon strip based on Irma's unpredictable doings. In order to do this, Don had to get to know Irma intimately, and Al put into effect an elaborate scheme to accomplish his purpose. Al's scheme worked so well, that he found himself looking in, with Irma announcing her engagement to Don! Following this development, complications multiplied on the day of Irma's announced marriage to Turner.

Student Government Day

1. Student Government Day is sponsored annually by the American Legion to give students a first-hand look at our city and how it operates. NHS students turned out nearly one hundred percent in their election. Here several are casting their ballots as others act as officials.
2. After the newly elected and appointed officers were sworn in, a general meeting was held. Many intelligent questions concerning our city were asked.
3. Miss Esther Johnson, deputy auditor, explains the work of the city auditor to Mary Moran and Judy Davin.

4. Leighton Dahl, content with a newspaper, is serving a sentence of 20 minutes in jail. He was found guilty on two counts--speeding and resisting arrest.
5. Bob Ormseth became official fire chief for the day. He's all set for a fire, but unfortunately, he couldn't make use of the equipment. But hurrah for Bob! He got everyone out of school with a fire drill.

Practicing Politicians

Girls' State

Chosen to represent Central High this year for Girls' State are Gay Lynn Noteboom and Janice Fox. They will be instructed in the organization of our government and given an opportunity for actual experience in its functions. The staters form a "student state" which is typical of our own state and all take an active part in its government. Aside from a week of learning, new friendships are made and each girl has an experience of a lifetime.

Classroom Activities

The very able recipient of this year's DAR award was Jennie Greene. The nominations were made by the senior class and the faculty selected the candidate from the three nominees. To be eligible for the award one must have the following qualities: dependability, outstanding leadership, church and home-life, patriotism.

DAR

Practicing Politicians

Boys' State

Barth O'Laughlin, Wayne Muth, and Tim Taylor have been chosen to represent Madison Central at Boys' State. The boys also participate in the organization of the "student state". They vote on issues in the legislature such as "Should 18 year olds be allowed to vote?" The companionship of other outstanding boys from schools all over the state will make this a truly wonderful experience.

1. Mixed expressions at the head table.....

2. Moonlight in their eyes.

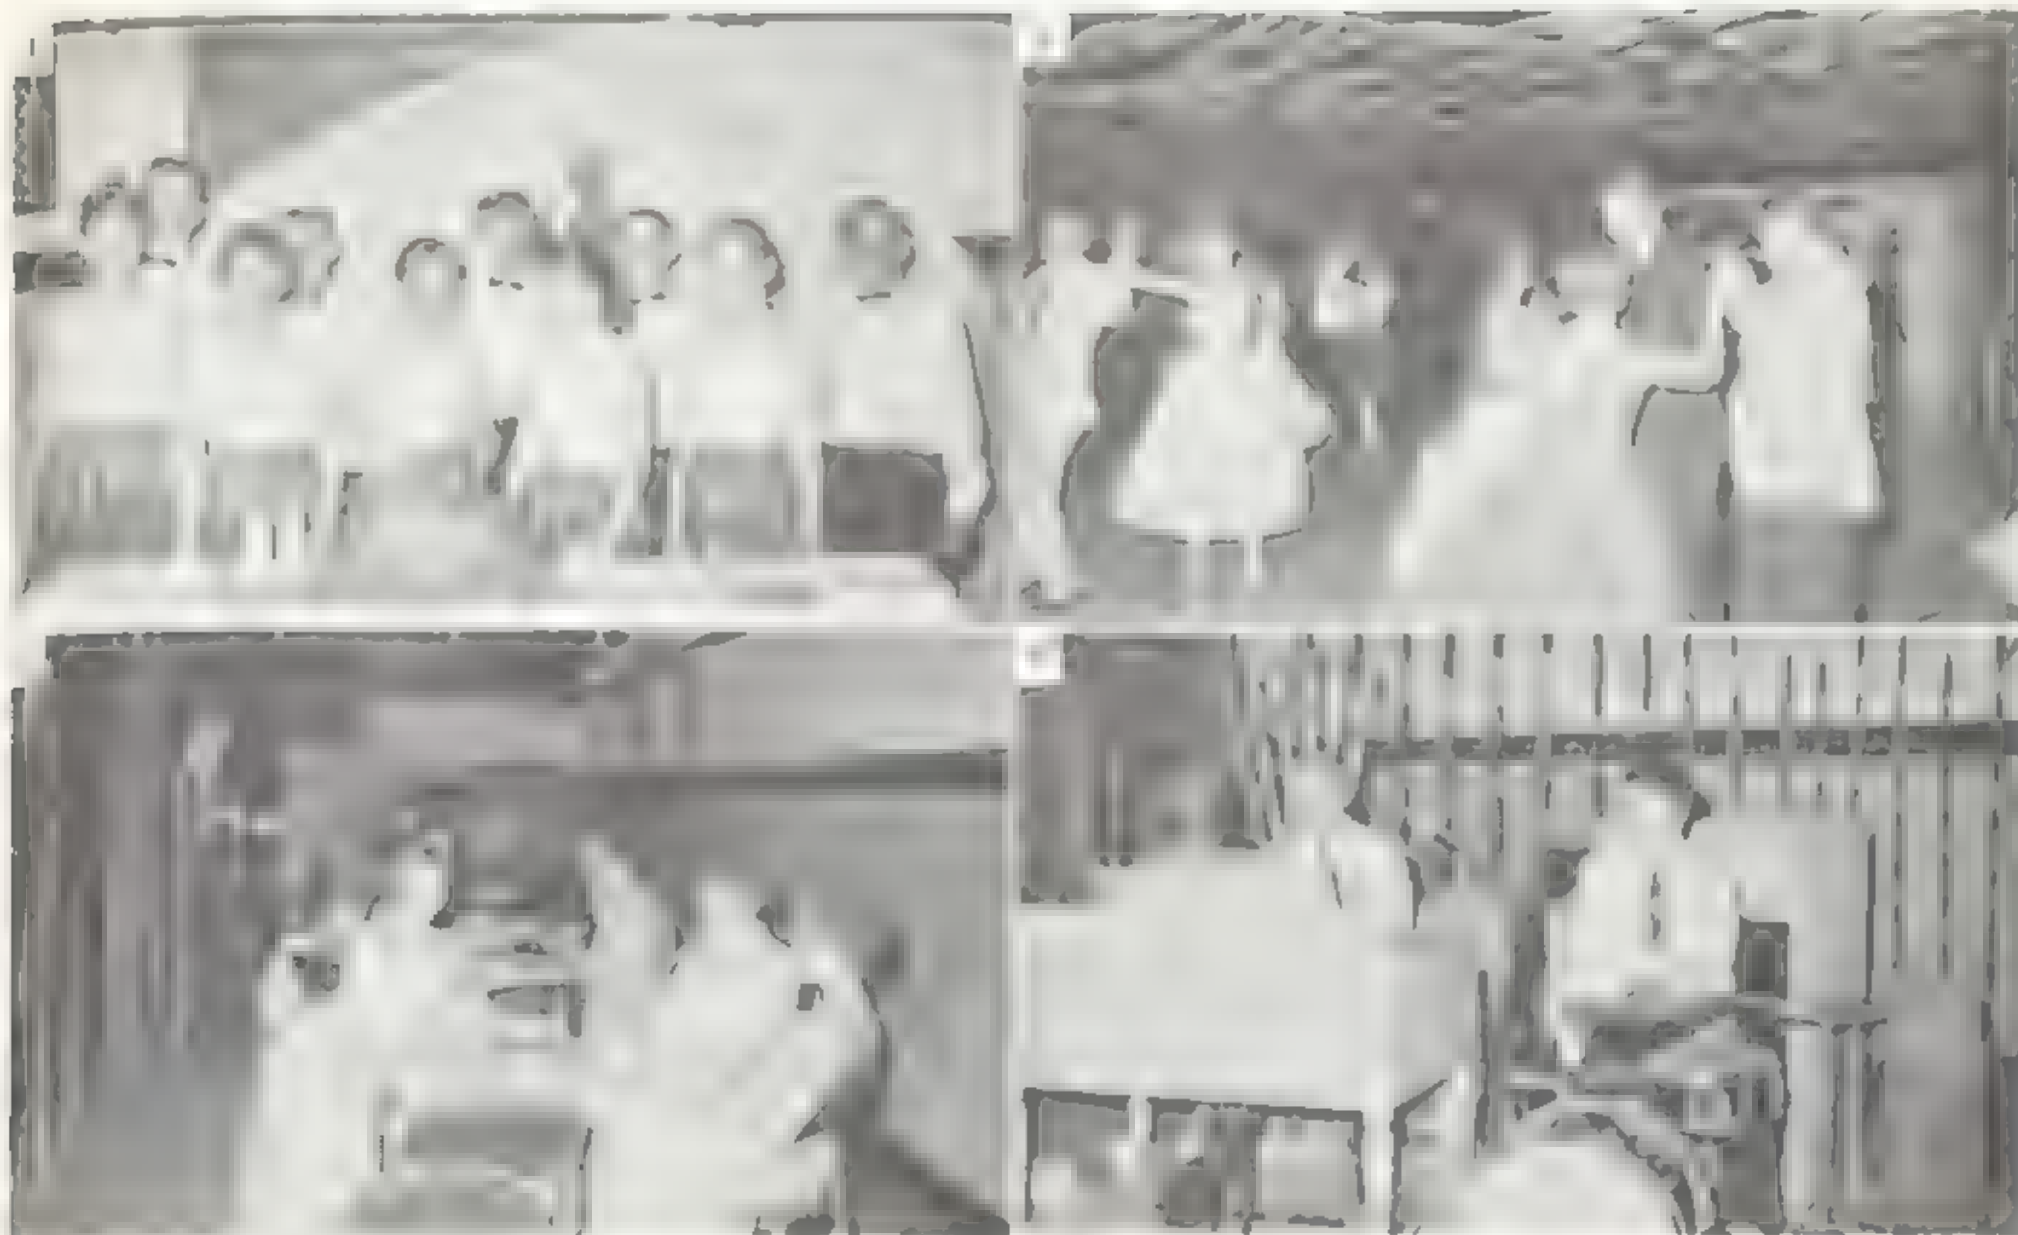

3. Mary, Queen of Scotland

4. Waiting for their dessert.

5. Serenades in smiles and moonbeams.

The Junior-Senior Banquet was held in the Trinity Lutheran Church parlors with "Moonlight and Roses" as the theme. The program was commenced by toastmistress Jeanette Jacobson with the welcome and concluded by Craig Rounds with the senior response. The junior quartet sang "Moonlight and Roses." Marsha Johnson gave a dramatic reading followed by the junior girls' trio singing "Moonlight Bay." Mr. Dockendorf, main speaker, entertained banquet guests with his interpretation of "Serenades In Smiles and Moonbeams."

With the fragrance of roses and the soft music creating a romantic mood, the theme of "Moonlight and Roses" was carried out at the Junior-Senior Prom.

The music for dancing was provided by Darrell Schultz, and Tommy Keough. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. This night will be remembered for a long while in the minds of the 1957-58 juniors and seniors of Madison Central High School.

1. The waitresses and waiters take time out from their busy evening to pose for this picture. Left to right, Back row: K. Christensen, R. Rhoden, D. Rook, R. Tidblom, G. Loon. Front row: K. Thompson, S. Johnson, P. Oldre, V. Tuttle, L. Rich.
2. Our camera catches couples dancing and enjoying themselves.
3. The pause that refreshes-----punch.
4. The orchestra, created the mood of the evening, by providing delightful music.
5. This shows the many hours of work that go into a successful prom. Here F. Ericsson, J. Fox, and and B. Hanson, work on various parts of the decorations.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate, one of the most important events for the seniors, was held May 10. The seniors stand together for the last time as a class in the high school auditorium. Rev. F. L. Luckridge of the Methodist Church gave the sermon, "Molehills or Mountains." The girls' Glee club and mixed chorus sang several selections. The service was concluded by a choral benediction.

J. Kuckenbecker adds a last minute touch to A. Bogue's collar before they march into the auditorium.

"It is just as bad to make mountains of molehills as to make molehills of mountains."

Commencement

Here the class of 1928 walk in procession to the city armory where their graduation took place. Commencement exercises marked the finale of twelve years of education. Students flowed with pride and some shed tears of happiness--such was the thrill of receiving a high school diploma.

1. Dr. Lowry, president of General Beadle College, presented the address which was centered around our individual responsibilities.
2. Commander Calvin Lowe presented the American Legion Citizenship award to Jennie Greene. Jennie was also class valedictorian.
3. Glen Rames received his salutatorian award from Mr. Banard, principal.

4. Mr. Tessin presented the Kiwanis Scholarship Medal to James Tofflemire and Janet Christensen who tied for this award.

5. Sophie Shaheen was the recipient of the Disabled American Veterans Speech award.

6. Craig Rounds received the Rotary Scholarship which was presented by their representative, Mr. Stahl.

Awards

April 1, 1957

1. Four boys lettered in all three sports-- basketball, football, and track. Left to right: Craig Rounds, Norm Johnson, Gene Whealy, and Glen Rames.

2. To stimulate interest and effort in the all-school play, an "Oscar" is given to the best actor and actress. This year's winners, the first to receive this award, are Carol Steinborn and John Blair.

3. Mr. Barnard presents Gay Lynn Noteboom with the Latin Award given to the outstanding student in the Latin class. This is the first year such an award has been given.

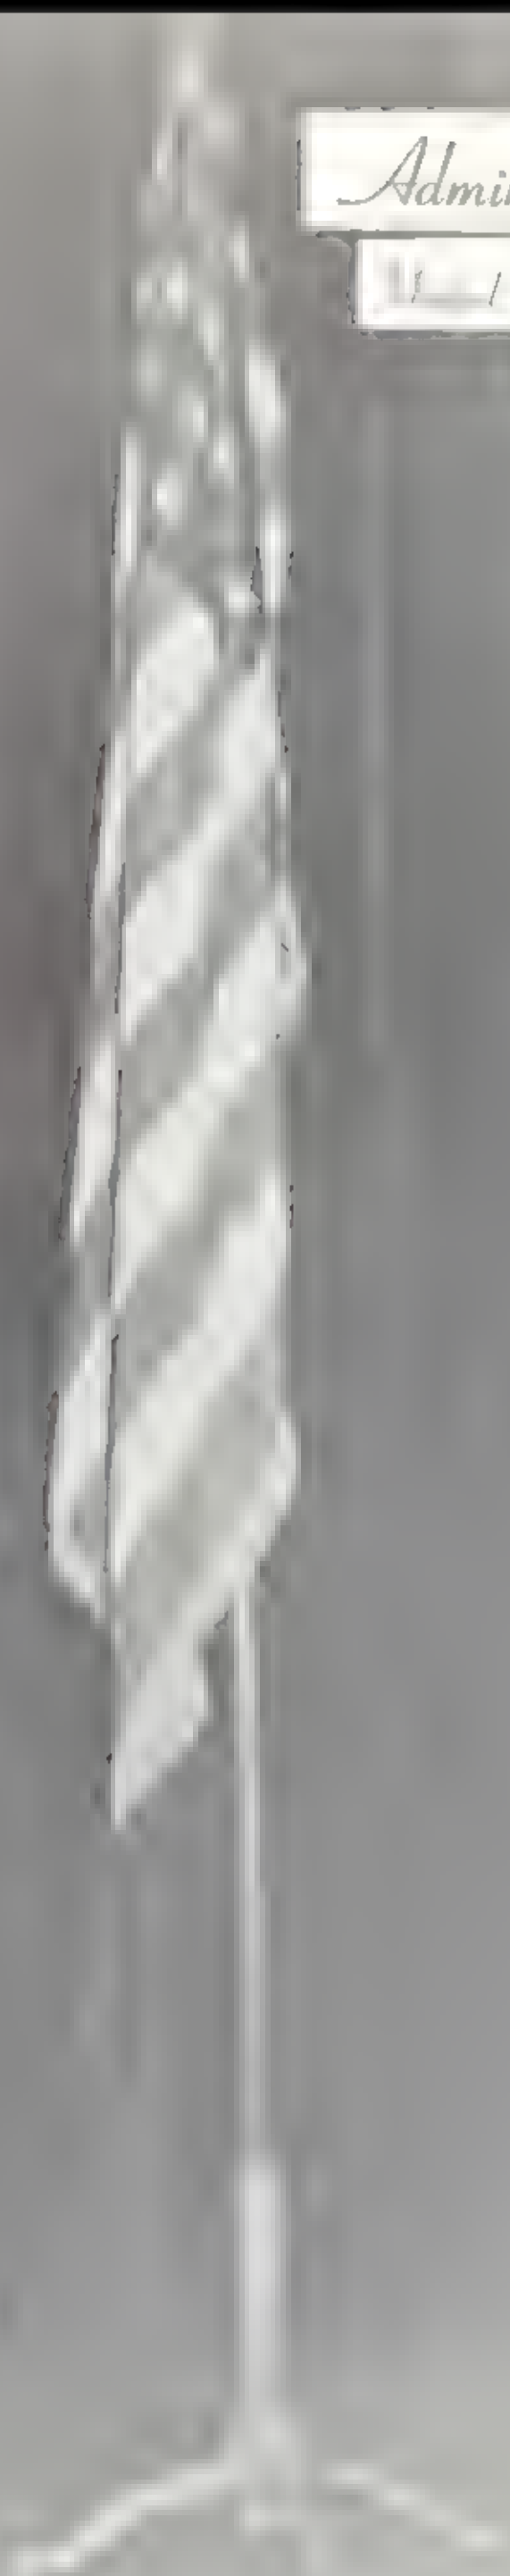

4. Voted by their teammates as the most valuable players, Norm Johnson in football and Glen Rames in basketball and track proudly display their trophy.

5. Roberta Hinde and Judy Arke earned their Junior Degree in FFA. Linda Anderson and Ardis Horner were Central's winners in the Original Recipe Contest sponsored by the Pillsbury Company. Their recipes were entered in the state contest. Judy Davin was the recipient of the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award.

Administration

1911-12

The school board is one of the important organizations at Central. They hire all teachers, decide on all improvements that are made and let contracts. All in all, it is their duty to see that the school functions smoothly.

Mr. Ericsson, a prominent Madison lawyer, handles the board's legal matters.

Mr. Casey owns and manages a fine drugstore here in town.

Another member, Mr. McGowan, is also a businessman.

Representing the insurance business is Mr. Hauge. He was a teacher at Central and is very interested in our welfare.

Dr. Jensen, a dentist, represents the medical profession.

Superintendent Thompson is an elective member. His duties are to present bills, preparing the payroll, and administer the policies set up by the school board.

Madam Chairman, Mrs. Harold Jensen, is a busy housewife. Besides her duties as an able homemaker she takes part in many community activities. As a member of the school board, she is using her ability for a very worthwhile purpose.

Clerk Mr. Ericsson and Treasurer Mr. Simpson here discuss a happening of a former meeting.

Mr. Simpson has been on the school board for twenty-four years.

Mr. Ericsson holds the honor of having the second longest term with nine years.

In Mrs. Jensen's job as school board chairman, she must take time out from her household duties to keep abreast with the news and modern trends in school administration.

Superintendent

In this day and age education is a very important part of each person's life. In order for us to have the best education possible, someone must keep each school system informed of the progress made.

Mr. Thompson, our superintendent, spends many hours behind the scenes planning and preparing for the best school year possible.

He is a graduate of the State University of South Dakota.

Mr. Thompson is explaining the school census. Each dot on the map of the city represents the residence of a student. These dots are rearranged each year to keep up with the constant shifting of people attending our schools.

Principal

Mr. Barnard is principal and also teaches American history. He is a graduate of Greeley State Teachers College in Greeley, Colorado.

Mr. Barnard, who is new in our school system, carried out his duties very well. He directs the student body, assists the teachers, counsels with students, and supervises all activities at Central High School.

There is an old saying that you learn something new everyday. This seems to be true at the Barnard home where Tommy explains the process of building a toy gas station to his daddy.

In the quiet of her kitchen, Theresa Erschens, secretary to the superintendent, catches up on writing a letter to her family in Lake Benton, Minnesota, where she previously lived and worked.

Admiring the fireplace he built in his new home, Mr. Mack relaxes after another busy day.

Mr. Mack supervises industrial relations and teaches shop. He graduated from Stout Institute.

Putting a professional touch on her new spring suit, Miss Mangels uses her training effectively.

A graduate of South Dakota State College, Miss Mangels returned to earn her masters degree in 1957. She teaches homemaking here at Central.

Mr. Dockendorf is caught taking a break after shoveling his walk. This was one of the rare times he was forced to perform this task during our mild winter.

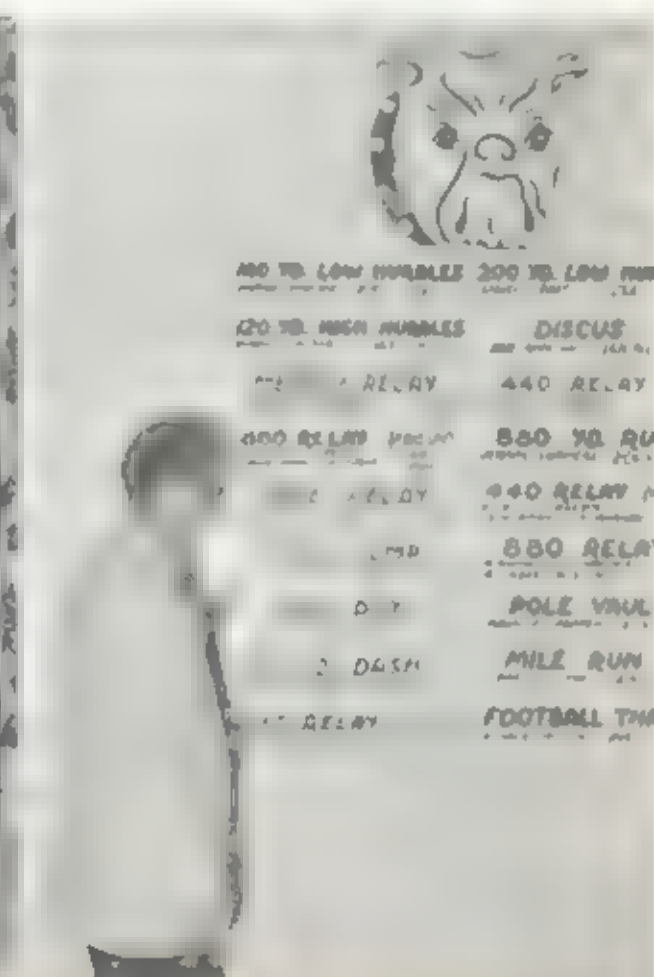

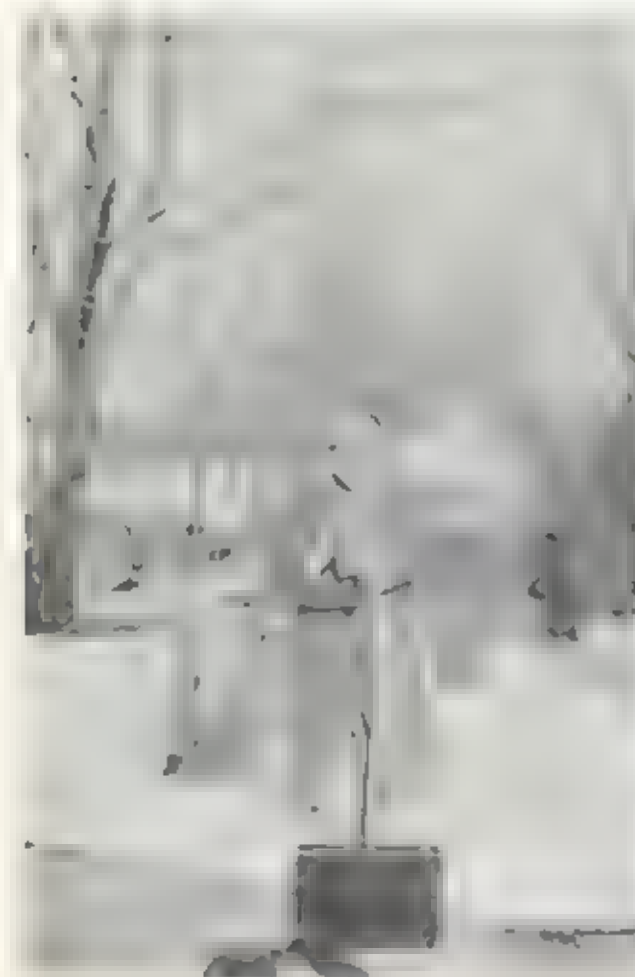

A graduate of General Beadle, Mr. Dockendorf teaches English III and IV, journalism, and is advisor for the Maroon.

Mr. Hiarling occasionally fits his hobby of ventriloquism into his busy teaching schedule.

A graduate of General Beadle State Teachers College, Mr. Hiarling teaches art and general science.

Mr. Hilton here surveys the record board at the field house wondering what new records will be added by the '58 track team.

Mr. Hilton, a graduate of Dakota Wesleyan University, teaches boys' physical education and is one of the coaches.

A graduate of General Beadle State Teachers College, Mrs. Groeneveld teaches sophomore English and algebra, coaches declam and advises the dramatics club.

MHS Highlights

The Prize Will Be...

Many long hours of work are put into the production of a yearbook. These long hours have paid off for MHS for the past two years. Jennie Greene and Marian Nelson, co-editors of this year's staff, and Miss Noack, adviser, are proud to accept the plaque for last year's winning yearbook.

2, 11-12-58

Craig Rounds, senior class president, looks with pride at this trophy which has been in possession of the class of 1958 for four years. The trophy is presented by the Elks each year to the class having the winning Follies skit.

The Junior-Senior banquet and prom is eagerly anticipated by the upperclassmen. "Moonlight and Roses" set a romantic background for this year's event. Memorable moments were experienced which will be fondly remembered in future years.

High school commencement is indeed an MHS highlight. Graduation day marks a definite step in the climb of the future. It is not an end, but an advancement--an advancement in education, an advancement in life.
